As you set your sights on your next goal, remember that the nearest star is 93 million miles away.

But you are made of atoms created in the stars.

Graphics: © 2001 - www.arttoday.com Card Design: © 2001 Science Integration Institute www.scienceintegration.org

So go ahead and reach for your star...

You've got it in you.